

Teaching Entrepreneurship

Susan Rice, West Virginia Department of Education

Melinda Walls, Director Entrepreneurship
Center WVU

Note

- This is an outline or notes on the session
- Slides will not be used during the session, so you need to attend to get it
- It will be a hands-on facilitated activity

Teaching Entrepreneurship

This session will explore the relationship between imagination, creativity and innovation. It will demonstrate through an interactive activity how these concepts are being taught in West Virginia classrooms.

creativity

Teaching Entrepreneurship

In addition, it will inform participants of the types of entrepreneurship education that are available in West Virginia at every level and encourage active participation from both county school systems and higher education.